

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A hollow needle holder includes a hollow needle container, a hollow needle fixing device, and an unlocking mechanism. The hollow needle container has a first face including a closable opening and a second face. The hollow needle fixing device is disposed on the second face for receipt of a hollow needle or an adapter for a hollow needle projecting through the hollow needle fixing device into the hollow needle container. The unlocking mechanism releases the hollow needle or adapter after use so that the hollow needle or adapter falls into the hollow needle container after activation of the unlocking mechanism.
